MUSIC EDITION

A C-A-M-P-F-I-R-E SONG!

Music is the invention of the future, past, and present. There are so many ways to experience it whether it's singing, dancing, playing an instrument, or simply enjoying other people's musical creations. So you may be asking, where can I do this whole music thing? The answer is: ANYWHERE and ANYTIME! It doesn't matter if people are sleeping, if you have food in your mouth, or if you are in the shower... you should take some time to explore the wonderful world of music. So this summer, whether it is by yourself, with your family, or with a friend, try this music thing out-- everyone is doing it.

STAFF BIOS

CAMP WAPO. OX LAKE. WILDERNESS CANOE BASE.

KATIE — WCB TRAILSHACK COORD.

This is Katie's fourth summer working at Wilderness. Her favorite things to do at camp include listening to loons, eating cinnamon rolls, and double-packing portages. She is also a birth doula.

KATELYN — WCB PROGRAM COORD.

Fun fact: Katelyn is a new graduate with a degree in life science education. You may find her exploring, knitting, or having a quick but spam-tastic life jacket snack.

GRACE — WAPO TEAM LEAD AND WATERFRONT COORDINATOR

Grace is from Apple Valley, MN and she is currently studying chemistry and biochemistry at Bethel University. In her free time, she is involved with campus ministries and she loves to paint and to do puzzles. There was also this one time she slept inside the piano in Crossfire chapel.

BEN — WAPO TEAM LEAD

Ben is a science student at Winona State University where he studies science. He has a science to sneaking around camp and a science to making the perfect piece of camp toast. Did we mention he likes science? Also, if there was a Hunger Games with camp staff, Ben would be a favorite to win because of his anime, rock-climbing, and science skills.

TURN THE MUSIC UP MR. DNA-J

Spotify has teamed up with Ancestry to offer users unique playlists based on their DNA. The streaming platform takes DNA results and generates selections of music based on their genetics and family tree. Through this partnership, they hope to offer a way for people to experience their culture through music.

MORE THAN A SOLO

One of the topics the Black Lives Matter movement has brought to public attention is the disproportionate effect the coronavirus pandemic has had on communities of color. On June 27, many of the music world's biggest stars - including Usher, Quavo, Lin-Manuel Miranda, Shakira, The Roots, and many others - came together in the "Global Goal: Unite For Our Future" to raise awareness and donations for this cause.

MML: WEEK 5 IS F5 SEASON

The games were exciting in their own right this week, however, fans were busy hitting “F5” or the refresh button on their computers due to the trade deadline. The biggest transaction of the week was when BROWN team traded two future first round picks for the currently retired 3-time all-star Karl. Karl who retired early two seasons ago decided to make his way back to the league to play with his SLPers. Despite the time-off, Karl is expected to make an immediate impact and will likely regain the titles of fastest player and best calves.

PURPLE team continues their historic season with a win over GREEN team. The game started very slowly, in fact, for the first 7 minutes and 38 seconds, not a single item crossed the midline... which is the record for longest time without an item to start a game and longest item drought. It was Grace who eventually brought a football across the line just by walking backwards the whole time. But it was the fris-trio of Chip, Esther, and Ella who took over the remainder of the game.

BLUE team was victorious over ORANGE team thanks to Shawn’s Player of the Week Performance. Shawn put up a stat-line of 32 tags, 8 deflections, and 10 items snagged. Grace had an impressive outing despite her minutes-restriction due to her injury last week. She is expected to be fully healthy next week to hopefully rally her team to secure a couple more wins before playoffs.

BROWN team overcame RED team in an exciting match. Karl and BROWN team proved that they can still be a contender down the stretch during this week’s win. Despite the loss, Kellen had a bounce-back week and he was clearly the best player on the pitch this week... so there is reason for hope despite dropping 3 games in a row.

The face-off between YELLOW team and MAGENTA team was undeservingly the least viewed game of the year. There was only one fan present... even Tim’s parents did not show up to the game this week. It was also forced to compete on the airwaves as it was slotted at the same time as LWLBC Tuesday Trivia. During the game, 12 geese entered the game and stole one of the noodles. It was the first time in 10 seasons when an item has gone missing during a game. But most excitingly, YELLOW team perfectly executed the extremely rare “Mighty V” to obtain the last item and win the game!

STANDINGS	NOODLES	ITEMS	TAGS	SAVES
